

I'm a truckdriver who is in the Washington DC- Baltimore area 3-4 times a week, and find the weather and traffic channels a valuable resource in my daily routine. Taking this right away from XM would hurt me dearly because I can get the information I need anytime and make plans around the information I have received.